A Troubled Childhood and Early Crimes

Cyril West was born into a working-class family in London, England, in 1885. From an early age, he displayed a rebellious nature and a disregard for authority. He skipped school, stole from his parents, and engaged in petty crimes. As he grew older, his crimes became more serious, and he was eventually arrested and sent to prison.

Notorious Murders and Escapes

Cyril West's mugshot, taken after his arrest for a series of murders.

West's reputation as a criminal mastermind grew after he escaped from prison twice. In 1911, he was sentenced to 10 years of hard labor for robbery, but he managed to escape within a year. He then embarked on a crime spree that culminated in several brutal murders. The victims included a police officer, a prostitute, and a wealthy jeweler.

West's crimes and escapes captivated the public's attention. Newspapers dubbed him the "Cat Burglar" for his ability to climb walls and enter buildings undetected. His daring exploits made him a folk hero among some, while others feared him as a dangerous psychopath.

The Downfall of a Notorious Criminal

Despite his cunning and determination, West's luck eventually ran out. In 1914, he was arrested for a string of burglaries and murders. He was sentenced to death and hanged at Pentonville Prison in London on March 9, 1915.
